MALHEUR

NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE

Malheur National Wildlife Refuge, one of the country's greatest waterfowl nesting grounds, is in southeastern Oregon, about 32 miles south of the old cattle town of Burns.

The 184,000 acres of the refuge include Malheur, Mud, and Harney Lakes, the Double-O Ranch, as well as the great valley of the Donner und Blitzen River. The refuge is near the center of a basin of more than

NATURALIST PROGRAM

June, 1960

GREAT SMOKY MOUNTAINS NATIONAL PARK

TENNESSEE — NORTH CAROLINA

NATURALIST SERVICE

Nature walks, guided hiking trips, self-guiding trails, illustrated talks, informal campfire programs, and exhibits are features of the Naturalist Program in Great Smoky Mountains National Park. By these means, the visitor can become better acquainted with the natural and human history of this extraordinary area.

Points of outstanding interest are visited on most of the guided trips. Regardless of the objective, stops are made at frequent intervals and trailside features are discussed. On longer trips, especially in the high Smokies, it is recommended that hikers carry a raincoat. Unless indicated in the program, no registration is necessary. All events are open to the public and are offered without charge by the National Park Service.

National Parks and National Forests

A Statement by

THE NATIONAL PARK SERVICE
UNITED STATES
DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

and

THE FOREST SERVICE
UNITED STATES
DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Millions of people annually visit both National Parks and National Forests, or receive benefits of one kind or another from them, without realizing that there is a definite distinction between these two kinds of Federal reservations. Perhaps you are one of these, and would like to know what that distinction is.

Both the National Forests and the many kinds of areas that compose the National Park System exemplify conservation—the wise use of our resources; and both play an important part in the lives of the people of our Nation.

FOR YOUR SAFETY

While in geyser or hot springs areas, Stay on Constructed Walks and Keep Your Children on Them. A fall into a boiling pool is fatal; in many places, ground crust that looks safe and solid is thin—dangerous to walk on.

Bears, Deer, and Other Large Animals Are Potentially Very Dangerous. Observe Them From a Distance; Do Not Feed Them. Remain in Car. Keep Car Windows and Doors Closed When Stopping To Observe Bears.

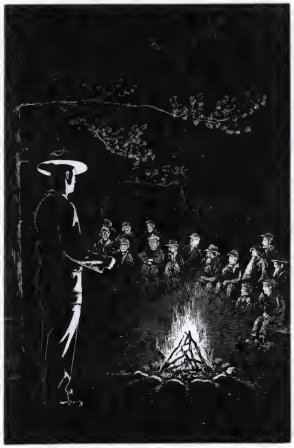
–1961–



The interpretive program for visitors to Grand Teton National Park is conducted by Park Ranger-Naturalists. All services, museum facilities, and exhibits are free of charge. The purpose of the program is to add to the visitors' understanding of the Park's natural and historic features and thus provide for their greater enjoyment of the area.

THE NATIONAL PARK SYSTEM

WESTERN UNITED STATES

AN INVITATION

THE NATIONAL PARK SERVICE of the Department of the Interior invites you to the areas of the National Park System, which are the property of all Americans. It urges you, when you visit them, to take advantage of the opportunities offered to learn more about them; and it asks your assistance in protecting the natural and historic features found in them.
